Purpose of the NCCP Code of Ethics

The National Coaching Certification Program™ (NCCP) Code of Ethics provides ethical standards that reflect the core values of the coaching profession in Canada, and guides sport coaches to make balanced decisions to achieve personal, participant and team goals. The NCCP Code of Ethics applies to every coach in Canada—from the first-time coach to the head coach of a national team. The NCCP Code of Ethics is used to guide the conduct in sport that stipulate acceptable and non-acceptable behaviours and associated repercussions.

Core principles and ethical standards of behaviour

Coaches value Leadership and Professionalism, Health and Safety, and Respect and Integrity. For each of these core principles, there are associated ethical standards of in-person and on-line behaviour expected of every NCCP coach and NCCP Coach Developer in Canada, whether on or off the field.

1. Leadership and professionalism

   This principle considers the inherent power and authority that a Coach holds.

2. Health and safety

   This principle considers the mental, emotional, physical health and safety of all participants.¹

3. Respect and integrity

   This principle considers respect and integrity, which are the rights of all participants.

¹“Participants” include but are not limited to athletes, opponents, parents, other coaches, volunteers, administrators, officials and medical/IST irrespective of race, ancestry, place of origin, colour, religion, citizenship, creed, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, marital status, family status, or physical or mental ability (Source of inclusivity statement: Canadian Centre for Ethics in Sport (CCES)).
Leadership and professionalism

This principle considers the inherent power and authority that a coach holds.

Ethical standards of behaviour

- Understand the authority that comes with your position and make decisions that are in the best interest of all participants
- Share your knowledge and experience openly
- Maintain the athlete-centered approach to coaching so that every participant’s well-being is a priority
- Be a positive role model
- Maintain confidentiality and privacy of participants’ personal information

Health and safety

This principle considers the mental, emotional, physical health and safety of all participants.

Ethical standards of behaviour

- Recognize and minimize vulnerable situations to ensure the safety of participants
- Prioritize a holistic approach when planning and delivering training and competition
- Advocate for, and ensure appropriate supervision of participants, including the Rule of Two
- Participate in education and training to stay current on practices to ensure the continued safety of your participants
- Understand the scope of your role and skills and call upon others with specialized skills when needed to support your participants

Respect and integrity

This principle considers respect and integrity, which are the rights of all participants.

Ethical standards of behaviour

- Provide equitable opportunity and access for all
- Establish a respectful and inclusive sport environment where all participants can raise questions or concerns
- Obey the rules and participate honestly and respectfully
- Be open, transparent and accountable for your actions
- Maintain objectivity when interacting with all participants

Rule of two

The goal of the Rule of Two is to ensure all interactions and communications are open, observable and justifiable. The purpose is to protect participants (especially minors) and coaches in potentially vulnerable situations by ensuring more than one adult is present. There may be exceptions for emergency situations.
