INTRODUCTION

This handbook documents the NCCP Policies and Implementation Standards. The current version of the handbook is available at www.coach.ca and will be updated as policies and standards are added or revised. The effective day of a policy is identified in the line under the policy title.

The handbook is for NCCP Partners to use as they participate in and contribute to the NCCP. Partners comprise the Provincial/Territorial governments and/or their Delivery Agencies, National Sport Organizations, Sport Canada, and the Coaching Association of Canada.

Policies

The policies contained in this handbook have either been derived from the original Minimum Standards developed by the National Coaching Certification Council prior to the change in CAC/NCCP governance in December 2005, or they document policies which have been developed after December 2005 through a collaborative decision-making process involving all NCCP Partners.

Policies are approved by the CAC Board of Directors, as are modifications to policies.

Implementation Standards

Implementation Standards document the responsibilities of NCCP Partners for implementation of a policy and the procedures that are to be followed in policy implementation. For policies that were in place prior to 2005, the Implementation Standards section of a policy documents existing practices. For policies developed since 2005 and into the future, Implementation Standards are the responsibility of the CAC, which carries development of these standards in consultation with NCCP Partners.

Implementation Standards are management practices and not formally approved and may change from time to time to improve implementation of a policy. Changes will also be made in consultation with NCCP Partners.

Policy Categories

There are six policy categories. The category and its objective are:

Program Development	Guide the initial and ongoing development of the streams and contexts of the NCCP and all associated Professional Development programs.
Coach Developers	Guide the identification, recruitment, selection, training, evaluation, and ongoing Professional Development of all NCCP Coach Developers.
Program Delivery	Ensure quality delivery to all coaches across Canada.

Program Sustainability	Guide the elements of the program that contribute to the long-term sustainability of the NCCP.
Quality Control and Impact Assessment	Guide the development of practices that maintain quality standards in any program element and assess the overall impact of the NCCP or any program element.
Database	Ensure the integrity of the NCCP Database – The Locker.

Structure: Policy and Implementation Standards

Policies have two sections: Principles and Policy Statement.

The Principles section identifies the values, beliefs, and assumptions on which a policy is based.

The Policy Statement articulates the behaviour or action that is required of the Partners as a result of the policy.

Implementation Standards have two sections: Authority and Procedures.

The Authority section identifies the responsibilities of NCCP Partners in implementation of the policy.

The Procedures section describes standard procedures which NCCP Partners are expected to follow in implementation of a policy or part of a policy.

PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT

1. Policy on Context Approval

Effective date: September 2003

Policy revised in January 2015

1.1. Principles

- 1.1.1. Reinforce the competency-based curriculum approach that begins by identifying the needs of athletes and then determines what coaches must be able to do to meet these needs and effectively lead athletes.
- 1.1.2. Ensure that coaches across all sports have comparable levels of competence once certified.
- 1.1.3. Reinforce the program's role in upholding Physical Safety and Health of Athletes, Coaching Responsibly, Integrity in Relations with Others, Respect of Athletes, and Honouring Sport. (NCCP Code of Ethics, 2012)
- 1.1.4. Ensure that program approval is granted through standardized and transparent due process.
- 1.1.5. Provide flexibility to ensure all sports and P/Ts, regardless of size/population, are capable of implementing the program.
- 1.1.6. Guarantee that the NCCP is available to coaches in both official languages and does not discriminate on the basis of gender, ability, culture, geography, religion, race, sexuality, etc.

1.2. Policy Statement

- 1.2.1. Context approval will be based on a standardized process and granted by an objective review committee drawn from the NSO community, the CAC, and relevant external expertise.

1.3. Implementation Standards

1.3.1. AUTHORITY

The CAC is responsible for:

- Designing the tools for the standardized review process in consultation with NCCP partners.
- Ensuring that the review process and criteria are published and publicly available.
- Selecting the review committee or having a designate select the review committee.
- Ensuring that the results of all reviews are provided to the NSO and are publicly available on request.
- Ensuring that the review is based on criteria organized under the following headings:

- System Cohesion
- Outcomes/Criteria
- LTAD Alignment
- Database Structure
- Resource and Reference Material
- Coach Training Curriculum
- Learning Facilitator Training
- Certification Process
- Coach Evaluator Training
- Program Delivery
- Communication
- Business Consideration
- Quality Control
- Impact Assessment

Context approval occurs in two stages.

Stage 1: Conditional Approval

- The CAC Coaching Consultant reviews the materials, pilot workshops, evaluations, and Learning Facilitator/Coach Evaluator training and advises the sport of their preparedness for context approval.
- The procedure described below must be followed for the approval of a context:
 - Meet with the CAC Coaching Consultant to plan for the completion of the proposal and the development of the context materials.
 - The NSO submits 4 copies of all context materials as identified in the NSO Context Approval Review Tool.
 - The CAC identifies and contacts potential review committee members and schedules a review process.
 - The CAC Coaching Consultant ensures the application packages are available to the Review Committee members.
 - The CAC Coaching Consultant to the sport completes the Review Tool with their comments and analysis of the sport's submission and forwards the document electronically to the Review Committee members and the CAC.
 - The CAC Representative on the Review Committee chairs all meetings/conference calls related to the review of the sport's submission.
 - The NSO presents the program to the Review Committee for Conditional Approval.
 - The Review Committee debriefs the review and decides whether or not to grant Conditional Approval. If Conditional Approval is not granted the Review Committee must provide specific direction to the NSO on the criteria that must be met in order to receive Conditional Approval.
 - Upon granting of Conditional Approval by the Review Committee, the CAC Representative ensures all recommendations are documented and provided to the NSO within 10 working days of the review.

Stage 2: Final Approval

- The NSO has six months from the date of Conditional Approval to complete all necessary modifications, to ensure that the program is available in both official languages, and to ensure national accessibility of the program through the training of a national network of Coach Evaluators and Learning Facilitators.
- The NSO must submit their final program package to the CAC via their CAC Coaching Consultant.
- The Final Approval package must highlight all required changes and contain:
 - Final copies of all program resources and materials in both official languages.
 - A list of all Learning Facilitators, Coach Evaluators, and Master Coach Developers by Province/Territory.
 - A letter from a relevant P/TSO approving the technical translation of the program materials and resources.
- The CAC reviews the final package. If Final Approval is not granted, the CAC will provide a detailed report to the NSO with specific requirements that must be met.
- The CAC grants Final Approval and provides a letter in both official languages to the NSO.

- Coach Evaluation
- Learning Facilitator, Coach Evaluator, or Master Coach Developer training

Non-NCCP activity: any non-formal or informal learning activity or self-directed activity that is recognized as Professional Development by a sport.

Non-formal learning is any organized educational activity outside of the NCCP that provides learning opportunities for coaches. Examples include coaching conferences, seminars, apprenticeship programs, workshops, and clinics.

Informal learning is the lifelong process of acquiring knowledge, skills, attitudes, and insights through daily experiences and exposure to coaching and sport. Informal learning happens in a wide variety of settings including, previous experience as an athlete, informal mentoring, day-to-day coaching experiences, and interaction with peer coaches and athletes.

Self-directed learning occurs when the coach reflects upon their technical, practical, and critical coaching issues and determines how to overcome practical coaching dilemmas. Self-directed learning makes use of a wide variety of materials, including coaching and sports science manuals, books, journal articles, videos, and Internet sources, etc., that were created for the purpose of enabling learning.

Season of coaching is the normal coaching period for a context in a sport. It could be a partial year or a full year.

10. Policy on Minimum Age

Effective date: April 2008

Policy revised in March 2015

10.1. Principles

- 10.1.1. The minimum age at which a coach may be designated as an NCCP coach should conform to the age at which it is generally held that an individual has attained the age of reason and can be expected to act within the standard of a reasonable and careful parent and provide a safe environment for participants.
- 10.1.2. Coaching education for individuals less than 16 years of age provides some sports with the capacity to encourage athletes in their first coaching experience and retain athletes who would otherwise leave the sport, as well as provide essential coaching support in community-based club programs.
- 10.1.3. Workshops developed for Community Sport – Initiation, Instruction – Beginners, and Competition – Introduction contexts are a potential complement or replacement for existing coach education programs already being offered by some national sport organizations to youth under 16.
- 10.1.4. A positive first experience in coaching, regardless of age, will increase the likelihood of someone continuing to coach and, if training can contribute to a positive experience, then access to training should not be limited by age.
- 10.1.5. The decision to set the minimum age for enrolling in an NCCP program at less than 16 is an NSO/Provincial/Territorial Delivery Agency-specific decision based on the nature, circumstances, and demands of their sport/province or territory.
- 10.1.6. As the educational organization tracking the designations of ‘In Training’, ‘Trained’, and ‘Certified’, the CAC, in collaboration with its NCCP Partners, is responsible for education about the meaning and limitations of the designations, particularly as it relates to the engagement of coaches in volunteer or paid coaching positions.
- 10.1.7. Due to the nature and conditions in which its sport is practiced, an NSO may determine the need to stipulate limitations beyond those defined by the CAC and its NCCP Partners for “In Training” and “Trained” coaches.

10.2. Policy Statement

- 10.2.1. The minimum age for the designation for a coach as NCCP “Certified” is 16 years of age.
- 10.2.2. Persons younger than 16 and older than 14 may enrol in and complete NCCP or NCCP qualifying education opportunities; where an NSO:
 - a) Plans to offer NCCP or NCCP qualifying development opportunities to persons younger than 16 years of age;
 - b) Agrees to provide these opportunities within the framework of the NCCP;
 - c) Agrees to maintain the records on the NCCP Database.

- 10.2.3. The Provincial/Territorial government or designated delivery agency may authorize enrolment in multi-sport modules.
- 10.2.4. Any person younger than 16 and older than 14 will be designated on the CAC Database with an underage status indicator.

10.3. Implementation Standards

10.3.1. AUTHORITY

The CAC is responsible for:

- Maintaining the records of persons younger than 16 and ensuring the roll-over to the appropriate status indicator upon their 16th birthday.
- Informing and educating all partners on the possible use and application of the underage status indicator.

NSOs are responsible for:

- Determining whether or not to allow 14- and 15-year-olds to access sport-specific NCCP events.
- Publicly communicating their position on the participation of 14- and 15-year-olds in sport-specific NCCP events on their websites.

Provincial/Territorial Delivery Agencies are responsible for:

- Determining whether or not to allow 14 and 15 year olds to access multi-sport NCCP events.
- Publicly displaying their position on the participation of individuals under the age of 16 in the multi-sport modules on their websites.
- Notifying the CAC of their position.

NATIONAL COACHING CERTIFICATION PROGRAM (NCCP) BRAND POLICY

Effective date: March 2019

This policy is applicable to these endorsed NCCP partners:

Government of Canada
Provincial/Territorial Coaching Representatives (PTCRs)
Provincial/Territorial Aboriginal Sport Bodies (PTASBs)
National Sport Organizations (NSOs)
Provincial/Territorial Sport Organizations (PTSOs)
Canadian Olympic and Paralympic Sport Institutes (COPSIs)
Coaches (see 11.3.1 Policy Statement)

11. Policy on NCCP Brand Use and Promotion

11.1 Principles

This section to identify the values, beliefs, and assumptions of which the policy is based:

11.1.1 All partners of the National Coaching Certification Program (NCCP) must adhere to the NCCP Brand Policy and the NCCP Brand Guidelines.

Adherence to the NCCP Policy and the NCCP Brand Guidelines is essential to:

- ensure a unified, consistent brand standard from all who use the brand mark
- deliver consistent communications
- build brand value and equity
- contribute to sustainability of the National Coaching Certification Program

11.1.2 Underscore the NCCP's core values and beliefs

The core values and beliefs of the NCCP are:

- physical safety and health of athletes
- coaching ethically and responsibly
- demonstrating integrity in relations with others
- respect of athletes, participants, officials, and self
- honouring sport

11.1.3 The NCCP brand promise

The National Coaching Certification Program provides coaches at all levels standardized, inclusive, and safe sport education across Canada. Delivered by NCCP Coach Developers, the NCCP curriculum ensures all coaches receive training based on current best practices in instructional design, ethical decision-making, and with content that is relevant, and which leads to the development of competent coaches. The NCCP delivers quality and developmentally-appropriate training and gives coaches the confidence to succeed.

As part of this mandate, the CAC, NSOs, PTSOs, PTCRs, PTASBs, COPSIs, and the Government of Canada, share in the development and stewardship of the NCCP, which is the program to deliver coach training and grant certification in Canada.

11.2 Policy Statement

This section to identify the behaviour or action that is required of the NCCP partners as a result of this policy:

11.2.1 Protect and build the NCCP brand

All NCCP partners are responsible for protecting and building the NCCP brand. By adhering to the NCCP Brand Guidelines document, all NCCP partners contribute to building a consistent, unified brand standard that builds recognition, value, and equity for the National Coaching Certification Program.

By adhering to the NCCP Brand Guidelines, all NCCP partners will ensure:

- All NCCP materials for workshop/module delivery must be available in both official languages (1979) ;
- The NCCP logo is featured on the front cover/main screen of all NCCP materials and resources (i.e. print, audio-visual, digital, electronic, and digital resources);
- All materials produced for the NCCP identify the program partners as follows: “The National Coaching Certification Program is a collaborative program of the Government of Canada, the provincial/territorial governments, the national/provincial/territorial sport organizations, and the Coaching Association of Canada”;
- All NCCP materials must include References, Acknowledgement of Authors/Contributors, and official Copyright statements;
- The NCCP Program Description (see 11.3.2.1) is posted on the NCCP Partner’s website;
- The NCCP Program Description (see 11.3.2.1) is included as boilerplate to any news release which refers to the NCCP or coach education.

11.3 Implementation Standards

11.3.1 Authority

This section to identify the responsibilities of NCCP Partners in implementation of the policy:

The Coaching Association of Canada (CAC) is responsible for establishing minimum brand standards for the National Coaching Certification Program (NCCP) for all NCCP partners to observe.

All NCCP partners share in following the NCCP Brand Guidelines and enforcing the NCCP brand standards.

The CAC is responsible for:

- Providing all NCCP materials and templates in both official languages;
- Providing NCCP Brand Guidelines Document in both official languages;
- Ensuring compliance of all NCCP program partners;

- Providing standardized NCCP and CAC high resolution logos;
- Providing standardized manual and resource cover pages, including template for NCCP Partner page acknowledgement, and Acknowledgement of Authors/Contributors;
- Providing print-ready versions of all multi-sport module written materials;
- Ensuring all multi-sport material and templates appropriately reference source material;
- Protecting copyright of NCCP original material in modules, materials, and templates.

NCCP Delivery Partners (NSOs, PTCRs, PTASBs, COPSIs) are responsible for:

- Ensuring all NCCP material is available in both official languages;
- Including the NCCP Partner page acknowledgement in all NCCP materials;
- Producing materials that meet all program identification and credit requirements;
- Protecting copyright of NCCP original material in modules, materials, and templates;
- Ensuring all NCCP material and templates appropriately reference source material;
- Appropriately acknowledging authors and contributors.

Authority to use, and to grant use, of NCCP logo:

All NCCP partners and/or endorsed affiliate member organizations (e.g., a PTSO/Club/Organization who adopts and recognizes the NCCP as a requirement for their coach education and development) are granted use of the NCCP logo and are required to include the NCCP description and the NCCP logo to their website (see 11.3.2).

All NCCP partners, as well as PTSO/Club/Organization affiliate member organizations, are required to use the NCCP logo in their promotion and marketing of the NCCP. They have authority to use the NCCP logo if they endorse and adhere to the NCCP in their coach development and are in good standing with their affiliated NCCP Partners (e.g. NSO, PTCR, PTASB).

A coach is granted use of the NCCP logo if they are an NCCP trained or certified coach. The coach needs approval granted from their affiliate member organization to use the NCCP logo.

11.3.1.1 Policy Enforcement

Failure to follow the NCCP Brand Guidelines may result in the following actions to be taken by the CAC or other NCCP partner organization:

- Organization contacted and advised of unauthorized use or incorrect use of brand mark;
- Organization asked to edit or remove the NCCP brand mark if not used correctly;
- Final Approval on NCCP materials may not be granted until all materials adhere to the NCCP Brand Guidelines;
- Financial support or payments may be withheld.

It is important for all NCCP partners to adhere consistently to brand standards, including the brand mission, core values, brand promise, brand personality, brand positioning and brand equity (see the NCCP Brand Guidelines document). It is from these elements that visual identity standards, when consistently communicated, build trust with target audiences.

All NCCP partners share in following the NCCP Brand Guidelines and enforcing the NCCP brand standards. Not appropriately using or enforcing the brand mark presents lack of visual consistency which could result in building negative perception of our brand from stakeholders and coaches.

Strong brand consistency by all NCCP partners reinforces the NCCP identity and drives positive sentiment and trust from coaches, stakeholders, and the public.

11.3.2 Procedures

This section describes standard procedures which NCCP Partners are expected to follow in implementation of the policy:

The NCCP Brand Guidelines is mandatory reading for partners. The NCCP Brand Guidelines contains specific information about:

The NCCP Brand Platform (intangible such as the NCCP personality)

The NCCP Visual Identity System (tangibles such as logos)

The NCCP Product Name Standards

The NCCP Writing Standards

The NCCP eLearning Standards

Usage of the NCCP Logo

Examples of Logo Usage by Communications Types

NCCP Style Templates for Workshop Materials

By adhering to the NCCP Brand Guidelines, all NCCP Partners will ensure:

- All NCCP materials for workshop/module delivery are available in both official languages (1979)
- The NCCP logo is featured on the front cover/main screen of all NCCP materials and resources (i.e. audio-visual, electronic, and digital resources).
- The NCCP colour palette, typefaces, photography, and graphic elements are used consistently in all products and communications that are specific to the NCCP;
- All materials produced for the NCCP identify the program partners as follows: “The National Coaching Certification Program is a collaborative program of the Government of Canada, the provincial/territorial governments, the national/provincial/territorial sport organizations, and the Coaching Association of Canada.”
- Use the NCCP brand marks on NCCP materials; the NCCP Partner may co-brand the NCCP materials;
- Use the NCCP PowerPoint template when presentation’s purpose is regarding NCCP coach education;
- Add the NCCP Program Description (see 11.3.2.1) to the NCCP Partner’s website to acknowledge that the organization is an NCCP Partner;
- Add the NCCP Program Description (see 11.3.2.1) as boilerplate to each news release that refers to the NCCP or coach education;
- Adhere to the NCCP Style Template for Workshop Materials (see 11.3.2.2) naming conventions: the title of all training materials and workshops that are part of the NCCP must begin with NCCP (e.g. ‘NCCP [sport/context] [name]: NCCP [Sport] Learn to Train’, NCCP [Sport] Instruction Beginners, NCCP Make Ethical Decisions.

Note: NCCP partners can revise titles of workshop and materials immediately, or can opt to update at the time of content revision. Any new NCCP content developed should follow the NCCP naming convention above.

11.3.2.1 The NCCP Program Description

Always include the NCCP Program Description (see paragraph of text) and select the appropriate PRIMARY logo (either English, French or Bilingual version).

The National Coaching Certification Program (NCCP)

The National Coaching Certification Program (NCCP) is a standardized coach education program available and accessible throughout Canada. Identified as a world leader in coach education, the NCCP ensures all coaches receive training based on best practices in instructional design, ethical decision-making, and with content that is relevant, current and which leads to the development of competent coaches. The NCCP gives coaches the confidence to succeed and is designed and delivered in partnership with the Government of Canada, 65 National Sport Organizations (NSOs), 13 Provincial/Territorial Coaching Representatives (PTCRs), and the Coaching Association of Canada™.

NOTE: As the Coaching Association of Canada (CAC) is mentioned in the NCCP's program description, the NCCP partner may also include a description of the CAC and the CAC's logo.

The Coaching Association of Canada

The Coaching Association of Canada (CAC) unites stakeholders and partners in its commitment to raising the skills and stature of coaches, and ultimately expanding their reach and influence. Through its programs, the CAC empowers coaches with knowledge and skills, promotes ethics, fosters positive attitudes, builds competence, and increases the credibility and recognition of coaches.

11.3.2.2 The NCCP Style Template for Workshop Materials

As part of the NCCP Conditional Approval and the NCCP Final Approval process for reviewing curriculum, the CAC verifies the usage of the NCCP logo and branding. The NCCP Style Template for Workshop Materials provides guidelines in both official languages for partners to ensure consistent design, layout, and pagination for the following materials:

- NCCP Coach Workbook
- NCCP Reference Materials
- NCCP Learning Facilitator Guide
- NCCP Home Study Guide
- NCCP PowerPoint
- NCCP eLearning Guidelines

GLOSSARY

Active Coaching
APPLER Principle	(1) A dsministratively feasible, (2) P rofessionally acceptable, (3) P ublicly credible, (4) L egally defensible, (5) E conomically affordable, and (6) R easonably accessible.
Assessment	A step of the learning process whereby the learner is informed of his or her performance or progress towards the achievement of a given outcome.
Attitude	A decided opinion or way of thinking that may influence a coach's behaviour.
Business Considerations	Issues and factors that should be considered to ensure appropriate implementation of a program is possible before, or at the very least while in development. Such factors would include: cost to coach, human resources required to implement, expertise available within the sport, distribution and numbers of coaches that will access the program, etc.
Certification	The recognition by the NCCP, following a successful evaluation, that context-specific coaching outcomes have been demonstrated to an acceptable standard.
Coach Development Model (CDM)	Design of the CDM follows the completion and validation of the PDM. The purpose of the CDM is to: Determine the types of coaches the sport needs given the information provided in the PDM; Articulate the structure of the NCCP based on the above, consistent with the general Streams and Contexts framework of the NCCP; Identify which environments/milieus have the same coaching needs, and therefore could/should be linked to a specific set of coach certification program; Determine the entry points, prerequisites, and possible movements of coaches within the structure; Identify the need for and types of gradations that could/should apply within a given coaching context of the NSO's coaching development structure, to recognize competence above and beyond minimum certification requirements.
Coach Workbook	The workbook provided to a coach during an NCCP training session that provides an opportunity for the coach to document their findings while engaged in the instructional design outlined in the workbook. Used to facilitate the training of NCCP Outcomes and Criteria.
Coaching stream	A distinction made within the NCCP that serves to differentiate the primary coaching focus. Three distinct coaching streams have been identified for certification purposes: (1) Community sport; (2) Competition; and (3) Instruction.
Coaching	The human interaction process whereby, through selected ethical practices, one person helps another to become better and to progress in a certain endeavour.

Community Sport Stream of Coaching	A stream of the NCCP in which the primary goals of the coach are to (1) instill the love of sport in a fun and safe environment; (2) promote participation and encourage participants regardless of ability level; (3) teach basic sport skills; (4) interact with participants in a recreational or low-level competition context. Two Community sport contexts have been identified for the NCCP: (1) Initiation to sport; and (2) Ongoing sport participation.
Competence Statement	A statement or description of the level of ability which must be demonstrated, in order to be judged competent for one particular task.
Competency	A competency is a system of declarative knowledge (i.e. the what), conditional knowledge (i.e. the when and the why), and procedural knowledge (i.e. the how) that is organized into operational structures and which, in a given set of situations, makes it possible to identify problems and to resolve them effectively. In other words, competency is the integration of knowledge, skills, and attitude that confers the ability to act, judge, or decide appropriately in a given context. The five competencies identified for the NCCP are Problem Solving, Interacting, Critical Thinking, Valuing, and Leading.
Competency Based Education and Training Program	Embarking upon a transition toward a competency-based approach to coach training and certification means that the NCCP is moving toward being a program based on coaching abilities. In contrast, the current NCCP places a significant emphasis on gaining information and knowledge. In other words, once the transition to a competency-based approach is complete, the NCCP will be a program that certifies coaches based on proven abilities to “DO” certain things deemed important to meet the needs of the participants they coach. These changes will result in significant improvements to the NCCP.
Competition	The activity of doing something with the goal of outperforming others or winning something.
Competition Stream of Coaching	A stream of the NCCP in which the primary goals of the coach are to intervene in a programs where performance is sought, provide support to athletes in areas such as technical, physical, tactical, and mental preparation, work towards improving athletes' competitive abilities, and work to develop athletes in the long term. Three Competition contexts have been identified for the NCCP: (1) Introduction to competition; (2) Developmental competition; and (3) High-performance competition.
Complex Coaching Situation	A coaching situation that has the following characteristics: (1) the performance factors are variable, sophisticated, and/or not well-defined; (2) the coach bears complete responsibility; (3) the consequence of error is significant; (4) the tasks at hand may have long-term implications or repercussions; (5) the coach may have to produce innovative and novel responses or solutions to the demands of the situation.

Conditional Approval	The validation and status a sport context program achieves upon successful review by an expert panel that identifies the achievement of current NCCP program standards. Conditional approval reflects that the majority of requirements have been met, but that the program is not yet entirely available in both official languages, and that some minor adjustments may still be required.
Context	The specific characteristics of sport programs and activities that determine the needs of participants. The context is determined by variables such as participants' age and proficiency level, the primary reasons for being involved in sport, the nature of the program they are involved in (duration of typical sessions, frequency of sessions/contact with the coach, duration of the program/season), and the environment in which the sport experience takes place (club, school, community league, high performance centre, etc.).
Context Approval Process (CAP)	The standardized review process for all sports new NCCP contexts. The process requires a review panel comprised of NCCP partners as per NCCP Minimum Standards to review all materials, conference on findings of their review, question the NSO developers of the materials and sport context, identify areas that do not meet NCCP Minimum Standards are require improvement as well as additional recommendations for program improvement, and ultimately decide if the context program has met enough of the standards and requirements to be conditionally approved.
Contractor	An individual hired by a sport to complete an aspect of NCCP development. The individual must be hired with a formal contract that addresses payment amounts based upon clearly identified deliverables AND address copyright and ownership of material.
Criteria (plural)/Criterion (singular)	The measurable and observable performance descriptor(s) that provide(s) evidence that an outcome has been achieved or demonstrated. Identifies what is to be evaluated within a given outcome and describes the desirable scope of coaching behaviours. Criteria are tracked in the NCCP Database within individual coach records.
Critical Thinking as a competency	The ability to reflect upon and/or monitor the outcomes of situations, experiences, decisions, and/or actions in which one or others are involved, and to assess their relevance and importance as a basis for future action.
Debrief	The process a Coach Evaluator will use to continue to gather necessary information to verify specific evidences that may not have been clearly demonstrated during the practice, and to provide feedback to the candidate about what went well and which areas need improvement. To this end, the debrief should help shape a more global appreciation of the coach's competencies based on the required outcomes and criterion.
Development Action Plan	A document which records the current development objectives of an individual, with timescales and means by which those objectives are intended to be achieved. This should be a 'living' document, which is regularly reviewed for relevance to current and future competence requirements.

Education	The endeavour, process, and means whereby a person can acquire the knowledge, skills, and attitude that support the achievement of selected outcomes.
Evaluation	The process whereby a judgment is made on the ability of the coach to achieve and demonstrate a series of outcomes, to the appropriate standard of performance.
Evaluation Toolkit	The NCCP context specific document developed to provide generic recommendations and standards for the development and implementation of sports coach evaluation processes.
Coach Evaluator	A person who has gone through formal training to become an accredited NCCP Coach Evaluator. A person who is responsible for evaluating coaches' abilities/competencies to determine if the coach meets standards for a particular context and/or gradation where applicable.
Evidence	Identifies discrete, observable coaching behaviours that need to be verified in order to successfully evaluate a given criterion, and may infer the extent to which NCCP core competencies have been achieved. Describes the depth to which a coach must demonstrate a coach certification standard.
Expense Claim	An NCCP form, submitted by the NSO to claim pre-approved funding for NCCP projects as applied for and approved according to the CAC Financial Support Policies.
Expert	Someone whose knowledge or skill is specialized and profound, especially as the result of much practical experience.
Feedback	Verbal or non-verbal communication that provides an individual with an observer's opinion of their performance.
Final Approval	The validation and status a sport context program achieves when all program standards have been met as identified in the Conditional Approval documents; and that the program is available for full implementation in both official languages across Canada.
Financial Support Policies	The CAC financial policies that outline allowed expenditures that NSOs can claim towards their NCCP budget.
Function (coaching)	A group of related actions that define a broad area of coaching. The five coaching functions identified for the NCCP are: Program design; Program management; Support to athletes in training; Support to athletes in competition; and Social support.
Gradation	An advanced phase of certification that reflects a higher degree of "competence" in required outcomes within a specific context, based upon successful completion of an evaluation conducted by a qualified Coach Evaluator using criteria and evidences that reflect a broader scope and depth of competency beyond the certification requirements.
Horizontal Development	The ability of a coach to improve their competence and develop professionally while remaining in the same coaching context.
Impact Assessment	A program evaluation concept that attempts to determine long-term contribution of a training program on the participants' behaviours.

Instruction Stream of Coaching	A stream of the NCCP in which the primary goals of the coach are to teach sport-specific skills to participants of various ability levels, and interact with them in a primarily non-competitive situation. Three Instruction contexts have been identified for the NCCP: (1) Instruction to beginners; (2) Instruction to intermediate performers; and (3) Instruction to advanced performers.
Integration	The inclusion of NCCP multi-sport modules and materials into the sport-specific modules. Integration may occur as a weave in which the multi-sport materials and sport-specific materials and instructional design are intertwined OR simply as the insertion of multi-sport modules into the overall workshop as specific modules with very little modification.
Interacting as a Competency	The ability to mediate effectively with individuals, groups, or teams in order to facilitate the achievement of a specific outcome. Interaction is a dynamic interpersonal process performed with a clear purpose whereby the coach establishes a rapport with others in order to effectively communicate, teach, lead, intervene, and/or manage.
Job Task Analysis	The NCCP developed process that analyses the skills, knowledge and attitudes required to work most effectively with athletes in a specific context. The NCCP Job Task Analysis requires a time spent and level of importance analysis of approximately 180 typical coaching tasks based upon results from the 1996 NCCP Model Coach Survey.
Knowledge	An understanding of the related theories and concepts one must have in order to accomplish the tasks.
Knowledge, Procedural	or know-how is the knowledge of how to perform some task. Know-how is different from other kinds of knowledge such as propositional knowledge in that it can be directly applied to a task. Procedural knowledge about solving problems differs from propositional knowledge about problem solving. For example, in some legal systems, this knowledge or know-how has been considered the intellectual property of a company, and can be transferred when that company is purchased. One limitation of procedural knowledge is its job-dependence; thus it tends to be less general than propositional knowledge. One advantage of procedural knowledge is that it can involve more senses, such as hands-on experience, practice at solving problems, understanding of the limitations of a specific solution, etc. Thus know-how can frequently eclipse theory. (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Procedural_knowledge)

Knowledge, Conditional	Understanding the when or why of strategy use is conditional knowledge . This is arguably the most important of the three kinds of knowledge about strategy use, and the one that teachers and students struggle the most with. In our content areas, we can do such a wonderful job of teaching students a skill and how to demonstrate it, but we fall terribly short at helping them make decisions about when to employ the skill. A doctor may know what a lobotomy is and how it is performed, but (particularly if you are the patient!) don't you want him to know precisely when and when not to perform the procedure? (http://curry.edschool.virginia.edu/go/readquest/conditional.html)
Knowledge, Declarative	The first, or the what , is called declarative knowledge . All that's meant by declarative knowledge is knowing what the strategy is and what it is meant to do. Your declarative knowledge of a strategy begins with your awareness of it. For instance, power thinking is a strategy that organizes information into main ideas, subtopics, and details. It can be an alternative to traditional Roman numeral outlining and is effective for thinking about information on different levels. That's the essence of my declarative knowledge about power thinking. (http://curry.edschool.virginia.edu/go/readquest/conditional.html)
Leading as a Competency	The ability to influence change in a positive manner in individuals, groups, and/or organizations, using a values-based/ethical framework.
Learning Facilitator	A person who has successfully completed the required training and evaluation required to facilitate coach learning/training during NCCP workshops.
Learning Facilitator Guide	The document that details the instructional design process and learning activities that a Learning Facilitator is expected to facilitate.
Learning	The acquisition of knowledge, skills, and attitudes that lead to a permanent or enduring change in behaviour and performance.
Learning Styles	The different approaches to the acquisition of knowledge, defined by 4 disparate types of style.
Long term Athlete Development Model (LTAD)	The Canadian 7-stage model that reflects a gradual cycle of athletes/participants participation in sport using key parameters that articulate appropriate activities and sport involvement given an individual's stage of development. Each Canadian sport is required to develop a sport-specific model in addition to the generic Canadian Sport for Life model.
Mentor	A person who can guide you towards becoming a competent coach able to contribute to the sport, the coaching profession and the community.
Minimum Standard	A policy approved by partners of the NCCP as a minimum requirement for development or delivery of the NCCP.
National Coaching Certification number (NCCP#)	The number registered to a coach in the NCCP Database.
Novice	A beginner in some pursuit that demands skill and proficiency.

Operations	Describes the administrative requirements that are necessary to deliver the NCCP.
Operations Manual	A manual developed by NSOs that clearly articulates the operational steps and requirements for the implementation/delivery of the NCCP within that sport across the country.
Outcome	The performance that the coach is expected to demonstrate for certification purposes, given the functions and tasks deemed most relevant to his or her context.
Participant Development Model (PDM)	Completion of the PDM is the first major reflection a sport has to go through as part of the NCCP transition. The PDM allows the National Sport Organization to make a prospective needs analysis about the following aspects: The various groups of participants involved in their sport or in variations of their sport; The environments/milieus in which the sport is practiced and these participants found; The characteristics of the programs offered in these environments/milieus (duration, frequency of contacts, nature of contacts in terms of training/competitive opportunities, level of competition where appropriate); Given the above, the fundamental reasons why people are involved in such programs, from the following perspectives: fitness; skill; performance; social. The PDM has to be validated extensively throughout the sport, and endorsed by the Board of Directors or a similar decision-making body within the sport. The PDM provides the sport with the core information from which its coach development system should be developed.
Philosophy	General beliefs, concepts, and attitudes of an individual or group. The philosophy of the NCCP can be summarized in the following statements: (1) To provide a positive experience to all participants in sport programs; (2) To enable all participants to fulfill their potential in sport; and (3) To use sport as a vehicle to help all participants develop in a holistic manner.
Pilot	An experimental undertaking or test, esp. in advance of a larger one. (Oxford Canadian Dictionary 1998 Oxford University Press Canada)
Policy	A requirement, passed by the CAC Board, that all NCCP partners must implement.
Portfolio	Collection of work or other papers (in this case, evidence) which, taken as a whole, offers a picture of an individual's range of abilities. A successful portfolio provides evidence of a coach's readiness to engage in the observation component of the evaluation process for a given context.
Problem Solving Approach (PSA)	An instructional design technique that involves a cyclical approach of analyzing a situation to identify a problem or being presented with a problem, determining possible solutions, cross-referencing possible solutions with research and expertise, testing possible solutions, choosing a course of action, and implementing the decision to solve the problem, and then assessing the impact of the solution applied. Also known as a Problem Posing Approach.

Problem Solving as a Competency	The ability to bring about a positive outcome to a specific coaching challenge. It is a four-step process whereby the coach must (1) analyze the conditions that exist in a given coaching situation; (2) identify appropriate coaching responses or courses of action; (3) choose an effective response; and (4) turn decisions into action.
Professional Development	The systematic maintenance, improvement, and broadening of knowledge and skills, and the development of personal qualities necessary for the execution of professional duties throughout working life.
Quality Control	The measurement of implementation results against identified program quality standards.
Reference Material	Documents provided to coaches during training that provide expert information in a specific subject or theme.
Simple Coaching Situation	A coaching situation that has the following characteristics: (1) the desired outcome, tasks, and performance factors are well-defined; (2) the coach bears little responsibility; (3) the consequence of error is limited; (4) the tasks at hand focus on the short term; (5) the coach is expected to use generally accepted coaching practices and procedures.
Skill	The capability of producing consistent performance and behaviour which can be improved with training and/or practice.
Sportified	A modification that increases applicability and relevance to a specific sport or to an individual within a specific sport.
Standard (of certification)	The absolute level to which a given coaching outcome must be demonstrated. The standard is determined by the intrinsic demands of the outcome(s) identified, and the nature of the criteria used in the evaluation process.
