

ANTI-RACISM IN COACHING

It's time to level the playing field

Marketing Toolkit

Introduction

Coaches in Canada play an integral role in creating a fair and inclusive environment for their sport. While the impact of racism in sports and coaching can be far-reaching, so can the effects of anti-racism coaching education.

Recognizing the need for timely, easily accessible resources, the Coaching Association of Canada created the Anti-racism in Coaching eLearning module to provide context and education on critical issues and questions raised by coaches and sport organizations.

This module was developed to support coaches and sport organizations at all levels by:

- Building knowledge of issues related to race and racism in Canada that affect coaching.
- Expanding the understanding of how to be an anti-racist coach.
- Cultivating the skills needed to support racialized participants in sport.

We invite you to use this toolkit to help your coaches and networks level the playing field by adopting anti-racist coaching practices.
